Good scooping spot with a long, usable extension with several adequate scooping points .
Deep valley, with good approaches. Climb out following the river.

Beware of river traffic.
Stay alert for vultures.

Beware of power lines that seem to proliferate from one season to the other. This is especially true in the valleys prependicular to the river, iwhich we usually use for water approach or climb out.

Predominant winds from the NW quadrants, usually channeled by the river valley.
